

2021 OKWHE Fall Conference Keynote Speaker, Dr. Jessica Rimmer

Jessica Rimmer, PhD, has worked in leadership development for over 15 years. As an executive leader, she has given oversight to strategic growth and culture initiatives that improve the engagement and energy of people within the workplace. Dr. Rimmer currently serves as a Senior Consultant at GiANT Worldwide, a global content and leadership development company. GiANT works with global companies in a variety of industries. Clients include: Google, BMW, Leidos and the US military. Prior to GiANT, Dr. Rimmer served as an executive leader in Higher Education where she led initiatives that helped define and distinguish organizational culture through focusing on team performance, leadership development and customer experience. Both her experience and education bolster her ability to help companies analyze their needs and craft unique solutions to address business challenges.

Jessica received her Bachelor's degree from Oklahoma Baptist University. She went on to earn her Master's and doctorate in Higher Education Leadership from the University of Oklahoma.

Jessica has served as a speaker on topics such as strategic growth, cultural diversity, transformational leadership and personal success. She is passionate about helping people live with purpose and influence.

Jessica lives in Edmond with her husband Terry and their three children Myles (9), Maris (6), and Margot (2).